Instructions you provide should be communicated to your adviser in writing. These instructions should be forwarded in an email, fax or posted letter to your adviser.

Tailored, general and ongoing advice

Prime Time Advisory advisers usually provide advice tailored to your individual circumstances and also have the capacity to implement the advice they give, except where this may require the use of other professionals (accountants and lawyers). You may choose to enter into an agreement with your adviser to provide you with both initial advice and ongoing advice. If appropriate, we may also provide general advice only, where you are ultimately responsible for ensuring that this advice is suitable to your particular needs, objectives and financial situation. In this case, you should also obtain any relevant product disclosure statements to assist in this purpose.

Should I transfer investment monies to my adviser's account?

No. Prime Time Advisory does not allow advisers to receive your investment funds into their own account or into any Prime Time Advisory account. You should only transfer investment funds for a financial product to the approved financial institution that issues the financial product (as specified in the Product Disclosure Statement or similar document). You should never transfer investment funds to any other entity or person.

You should also not sign any blank forms or appoint your adviser as your attorney (or authorised signatory). You should not appoint any other person as your attorney or authorised signatory unless you have received legal advice.

What information should I provide to my adviser?

You will need to provide your adviser with your personal objectives and your current financial situation including details of assets, liabilities, income and living expenses. This can best be accomplished by completing a Prime Time Advisory Client Data Form. The amount and type of information we will require from you depends on what financial services you require.

It is important that you provide us with complete and accurate information about your current personal circumstances and financial situation.

If you choose not to supply the required information or provide us with inaccurate information, the advice you receive may not be appropriate to your needs, objectives and financial situation.

You should read the warnings contained in the SOA, check any assumptions we make and review the basis for our advice carefully before making a decision about whether to proceed with the advice. You should also obtain and read any relevant product disclosure statements prior to applying for a financial product.

How will I pay for the services provided?

Your adviser's specific method of remuneration and fees, including referral fees, are detailed in their Adviser Profile. The exact remuneration and fee details will be disclosed to you in your SOA.

All fees will be payable to Prime Time Advisory and any commissions are initially paid to the Licensee Prime Time Advisory. Our employee Authorised Representatives are remunerated by a fixed monthly retainer and bonuses. Principals are remunerated by a fixed monthly retainer, distribution and profit share.

How are any fees, commissions or other benefits calculated for providing the financial services?

The three stages of financial planning are Initial Advice, Implementation and Further Advice. There is usually a separate fee for each of the three stages. Your adviser's remuneration structure for each advice stage will be found in their Adviser Profile and the dollar value disclosed to you in your SOA.

All commissions are payments made by the insurance product provider and are calculated as a percentage of the premium paid on insurance products. Commissions are of two types: (a) upfront or initial; and (b) renewal or trail.

Fees can be based on: a percentage of funds invested or funds under advice, hourly rates multiplied by the hours worked, an agreed dollar amount for the value of the specific service being performed, or a combination of these.

The fees can be collected by platforms and other product providers.

The typical ranges of fee rates for investments and commissions for insurance products are as follows.

- Payment can be collected through a platform, by direct debit or invoiced. A fee for the preparation of the Statement of Advice will be charged even if the recommendations are not implemented. For insurance, the commission may be paid by the insurance provider. Further advice that includes portfolio reviews may be charged on a percentage fee basis which varies according to the portfolio amount, or as a fixed dollar amount depending on the complexity and structure, as agreed with your adviser.

Preparation of Statement of Advice (SoA) (depending on complexity)	From $4,400
Implementation Fee from	$950
Further Advice (Review(s))	From $4,400 per annum Or a fixed fee
Hourly rate	$550
Insurance Upfront commission Renewal commission % based on amount of premium and is paid by the insurance provider	Up to 66% Up to 33%*

All fees include 10% GST

All applicable fees and commissions will be agreed to with your adviser and disclosed in your SoA or other advice document.

What should I know about any risks of the investments or investment strategies you recommend to me?

Prime Time Advisory advisers may only recommend to you investment products that are researched, analysed and approved by Prime Time Advisory. Your adviser should explain any significant risks of investments and financial planning strategies. If the adviser does not do so, you should contact us to explain those risks to you.
